October 2010

What are you feeding your pet???

Is your food as good as the package says it is? An animal's diet is just as important as a human's diet. Your pet will benefit from food that matches its lifestyle. Read the first three ingredients of any pet food. That is what you are really buying. Here are two dog foods that are for large breed adult dogs with active lifestyles. Dog Food A lists Ground Whole Corn, Meat And Bone Meal, and Ground Whole Wheat. Dog Food B lists Chicken Meal, Ground Rice, and Corn Gluten Meal. Which would you rather eat?

Mosquitoes are pests that can spread disease and itchy discomfort. Getting rid of them in a small area is easier than you might think; here are some pointers to assist your battle against them.

Dump or flush out any stagnant water sources in your yard. Examples of mosquito breeding grounds include old tires, driveway puddles, unfiltered fish ponds, empty flowerpots, and any item that can hold water for more than a few days at a time. If you're inundated by mosquitoes/gnats due to standing water from street curbs, drainage ditches or other pools you can't really control- toss in a couple of toilet bowl tablets. This seems to work.
