Staphylococcus aureus

Staphylococcus aureus (staph) is a type of bacteria that's commonly found on the skin, throats and nostrils of many healthy people and animals. Therefore, it usually doesn't cause illness unless it is transmitted to food products where it can multiply and produce harmful toxins. Staphylococcal food poisoning can cause many of the same symptoms as other foodborne illnesses, such as nausea, stomach cramps, vomiting or diarrhea. The bacteria can also be found in unpasteurized dairy products, salty foods such as ham and other sliced meats, or in foods that require no cooking, such as puddings, prepared salads or sandwiches. Staphylococcal toxins are heat resistant, which means they cannot be destroyed by cooking.

Sources: Foods that are made or come in contact with the hands and require no additional cooking are at highest risk, including: Salads, such as ham, egg, tuna, chicken, potato and macaroni
Bakery products, such as cream-filled pastries, cream pies and chocolate éclairs
Sandwiches

Prevention: Wash hands with soap and water, do not prepare or serve food if you have a nose or eye infection or if you have wounds or skin infections on your hands or wrists. Keep the kitchen area clean and keep food out of the danger zone by cooling foods immediately in wide, shallow containers and refrigerating them.
