Thanks to everyone for your effort in committing to the Regional Mural Program. We will continue working together over the next couple of months to make sure all municipalities have the resources and support necessary to install the murals.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND MURAL PROJECT

Call for Artists: MURAL PROPOSAL #3

November 9, 2018

CALL FOR ARTISTS MURAL CRITERIA

General Information:

• Mural must capture both the spirit of an active lifestyle and the spirit of South Padre Island.
Solution: Use of colors from the existing logo to create continuity and visual branding. Part of existing structure (wall sign) was incorporated into one of the mural panels. The color bands on the top and bottom of mural area will serve to frame the mural, as well as integrate it to the center panel. Recognizable elements were used to evoke viewer recognition and engagement. Design was enlarged and simplified in order for it to be visible and understandable form near and far, standing or in movement, and from any of the traffic flows. Elements depict many of the activities in SPI.

Submission Process:

- General Portfolio attached to document (Full portfolio available upon request
- Combined experience 40+ years in fine arts, decorative arts, murals, project management Document attached
- Sample mural attached Once approved, elements will be scaled as per wall's existing dimensions
- Artist collaboration: Krissy Designs and Artistico Inc- concept and design development / Artistico Inc Production

Selection Process Criteria:

Creativity:

The purpose of this design, was to fall under the paramaters and visual requirements of various existing standards such as "art in public places", city ordinances, the "action plan" etc. The murals had to be general and diverse enough in order to engage every visitor. Various dynamics were use to achieve this, such a chromotherapy, advertising psychology, geometric designs, application of the "Golden Ratio" for balance, distribution and visual contact. Color scheme was consistent with existing city colors, and design was integrated into the background and elements in order to achieve cohesiveness, and memory retention. The application of these disciplines will result in a high level of engagement and participation, therefore increasing the amount of visitors to the community center, as well as attract clientele to the surrounding businesses. Mural can be engaged from any angle and direction, and though the division of the same into three sections, it will create an interactive experience, and it will "move and adapt" as the person travels by it. Elements are positioned in various levels and at different scales to create additional depth and 3Dimensional effects on a 1D surface.

Achievability:

The original design was scaled down and painted by hand and digitalized in order to be able to scale it to actual building. Once the project is approved, a final on site measurement will be made and the final draft will be completed. By the time on site production starts, a full digital rendering of the three panels will be completed, along with all measurements and dimensions in order to expedite production, Weather conditions have already been assessed, and a plan of action has been implemented in anticipation. Execution will commence from day one and the project will be complete by projected deadline.projection units, staging, lasers and other equipment will be used to ensure efficiency, proficiency and expediency.

Content:

Mural content encompasses local activities, lifestyle and depicts fauna and flora in the region. Some of the elements incorporated into the mural promote or showcase other attractions in SPI, for example the turtle and pelican refer to the birding and turtle centers, while the hibiscus plants in the palm trees refer to the mural at the convention center. The thesis of the design, is for it to be easily "absorbed" by the visitors, and create in them curiosity to visit the other attractions. The combined response, will be that once they visit the other places depicted in the mural, they will re-engage back to the community center. The content as it is designed creates and plants a basic platform for everything there is to do at the island, and it will certainly be an attraction and a photo op for tourists. By increasing traffic to this area, as well as making it a photo destination, it will serve as free advertising and promotion.

MURAL CONCEPT AND DESIGN

The proposed design is to be placed on the South and South East walls of the SPI Community Center. The projected length per wall is 42 linear feet per wall, with a combined total of 48 linear feet. The overall area of both areas is a total of 480 square feet. In order to create visual continuity between both walls, the full mural design consists of three panels, divided equally between both walls. By mirroring the main background of the lateral sides, it allows for a balanced anchoring design, while the center panel visually eliminates the corner of the building. This will create an optical illusion when seen traveling in a north direction. When seen traveling in an Eastern or Southern direction, each individual wall can visually stand alone. In every one of these cases, the viewer will be able to view and identify different elements. The objective of a three panel mural, is for it to be dynamic, The viewer will always have a different perspective based on the direction he/she is traveling or standing. This allows for a unique view every time. The selection of the theme was based on recognizable objects that depict action, motion and participation, With a subjective theme, each individual person will be able to create their own interpretation based on their personal experiences. The dominant theme colors reflect the existing colors of South Padre Island's official logo. This was done to create" brand awareness" and recognition. Furthermore, the existing logo on the South East wall, was incorporated into the design of the panel. In consideration of the different angles and distances in which it would be seen, the objects will be large enough to be appreciated from a standing distance, as well as while driving by on the main drag. The use of simple shapes and primary colors, was chosen to visually attract and stimulate both children and adults, The design will serve as background for photo opportunities, give the community center its own personality and charm, as well as adorn the existing landscape.

MURAL CONCEPT AND DESIGN - OPITION 2

Mural Re-Design Assessment:

The full mural design consists of 2 panels, divided equally between both walls. A scenery / action as it would exist, might not be the most effective approach for various technical reasons. Also, in using or changing the design to be more composition style like at the community center, there is not enough visual distance nor wall space for it to be effective. In order to create correct perspective, the actives / objects will have to be downscaled..compromising the visual capture and retention.

The wall(s) to be painted have 3 possible visual angles . People can walk up to it, and upon doing so will be a few feet away, but over 80 % of all who see it will be in transit. There are two types of traffic to consider... Active and passive. Active traffic are those that would be going directly to see it (captive audience) which would be less than 15% of the intended market and the rest would be transitory. (driving by) The engagement distances and visual accesses for the transitory traffic will vary and be of big importance, if the intention of the mural is to get additional people to those who already know about it, to stop. The design must consider all these things in order to be effective in its purpose and presentation ...

For example, if done "scene theme", and using the "golden rule" of design or "the rule of thirds". working on three planes: background, foreground and theme actives on a 10 ft high wall, any active (ie: person, fish, boat etc., the largest item would be 1/3 of that which makes it 3.33 feet. Any other elements added, will have to be in perspective as to the largest item. Meaning, that if the tallest item depicts a 18 foot palm tree, and is painted 3 feet tall, then if you paint a regular person, It should be around about 1/3 the size in reference to to palm tree, making it only approx.1 ft tall. All other actives would be painted in reference and perspective to these, as well as their position in the foreground and background, making some even smaller than 1 ft.

At the distances given below, the design wil not be seen at all ... it will be a blur and only appreciated up close.

For the purposes described within all criteria in the art on public spaces, AIA, Active Planetc as per The info in the initial proposal, the request for a more scenic mural solves one issue, but leaves the important ones unaddressed....

- 1.- from the side street (south wall)
- 2.- north direction (can see both walls)
- 3.- south direction

The real visual traffic distance (right of way) from all theee areas are

- 1.- min of 30 ft ft from wall to west right of way past shoulder (bike lane) ...minimum of 42 ft from wall to east right of way. Considering the 25 miles an hr limit, but the time the tourist sees the mural, it will be more than 3/4 past it this is considering that they will have to make the stop sign and even then, the mural will be behind them ...and although it will have the possible distance, they will not have enough time to visually capture it.
- 2.- North direction. The closest north direction lane is a minimum of 114 ft traveling at 35 miles per hour at that distance and speed, height of building, road obstructions (median, bushes, stop sign, lamppost, handicapped post, plant tree... you would never see the art workyou see the wall, you won't see the detail ... the mural would be the about the 7th element in your perspective from front to back
- 3.- south direction the closest right of way is a minimum of 80 feet. There is a large building before the community center which would distract the viewer and at a 35 mph speed this is probably the angle with the least direct visual access, the travel direction is in an exit pattern (away from the island) and the building is nestled deep inside the street again, lost of visual stops before the mural, street posts, lamps, signs, palm trees etc

It is for these reasons, that the mural was simplified into a two dimensional design with medium detail (Option 1) the intent was to immediately capture, project, captivate, interest and draw the viewer....

I am also attaching the following link which describes / is more concrete in explaining the latter ...

https://www.google.com/amp/s/99designs.com/blog/tips/back-to-basics-part-ii-principles-of-design-with-painting/amp/

For the best example of how it will be seen, there is an existing mural that is in the same area, same side of the street, almost same distance from street etc — and it is "Cactus Flower interiors) — they used a similar type of design and lore than likely for similar reasons.....

Mural Re-Design Assessment 3:

The full mural design consists of 2 panels, divided equally between both walls, with a main background running from left of south wall, to the end of the northwest wall. This design approaches the theme in a different manner than the first two options. It addresses both requisites and concerns, by seamlessly merging and integrating themes/styles, without sacrificing aesthetics or visual / perception dynamics. This solution allows for a very distinct visual appeal, as well as it allows for a large scale depiction of active lifestyle.

By using these individually contained areas (pictures), varied depictions of active lifestyles can now be done at a larger scale, than if used in a composition style murals where the rule of thirds would have to strictly adhered to. Furthermore, you would have 6 mini-murals within a large one. The overall design depicts most of the available activities at SPI. Additionally, captions were added to the bottom of the polaroids, in order to add additional appeal, interaction and personal association to/with their own personal experience. Finally, this mural can be seen and appreciated from up close, as well as from a distance, It is simple and fun enough, that people will be drawn to it, and elaborate enough to make it more of a detailed art piece, Occupancy tax is 17% as of January 2017. 10.5% is collected by the City of South Padre Island monthly, .5% by the County, and 6% by the state of Texas quarterly. Any hotel or condo visit longer than 30 days is tax exempt. Percentages of change March vs. April are partially the result of the month in which Easter falls. The monthly occupancy tax reports from the finance office include any late payments received from properties behind in their taxes. The City reports them in the month they are paid.
